T. W. ROBINSON.

THE OLD PREMIER HAS PASSED AWAY.

A VETERAN STATESMAN IS LAID AT REST.

"REQUIEMAT IN PACTE."

The Ex-Premier of the Reform party has died.

At his residence on St. Alban street, Toronto, on Sunday last, the veteran statesman breathed his last.

HIS CAREER.

Space we have not to give that history of his life which we would desire, but which, however, is generally well known.

The deceased was a native of Perth shire, Scotland. His father was an architect. His son became a stonemason.

He came to Canada early in life and in the county of Lambton, plied his trade. This county of Lambton was the first constituency he represented. He became a politician not by choice, but by reason of the fact that he ever considered it his duty as a citizen to lend his knowledge and assistance to wards whatever tended to the advancement of the interests of his adopted country, and the British Empire generally.

No sooner had he arrived in this country than he began to devote to its service his time, his energies, and his talents. To what extent he succeeded is well known to require any statement on the part of the Press.

For some years he was a member of the Executive Council of Ontario, but, some time in 1873, retired to take a seat in the House of Commons. In that year he was called upon to form a new administration. As Premier he took the position of Minister of Public Works, a portfolio which he held in 1878.

By his death a vacancy is created in the representation of East York. A vacancy has been created in the House of Commons, which, perchance, may never again be filled so honestly and so faithfully.

The thought ever present to his mind is well expressed in the words of a Canadian poet:—

"He who hath no interest in his country,
And can gaze upon its ruin or its rise,
With dull simplicity,
Is not a man, for sure he hath
A soul so small to merit Heaven's wrath."

The course of the dead statesman never merited this condumnation.

HIS SICKNESS.

Mr. Mackenzie's sickness, although only serious since last fall, when he received an ugly fall by slipping on ice, dates back for years, when he became partially paralyzed, a result, it is believed, of his very arduous labors in behalf of his country. The paralysis, which continued to make slow but steady encroachments upon his body, did not impair his mind, which always remained clear. His wonderful memory being especially keen. The fall already referred to prostrated him completely and prevented his attendance at Parliament, which, despite his feebleness and partial paralysis, he had managed to attend for some years past.

His sickness prevented his attendance at Ottawa at all of this session, and, even last session, the feebleness which was gradually overpowering him prevented that regular attendance to his parliamentary duties, which unto that time had been one of the striking characteristics of his political career.

Dr. Thorburn, who was his faithful medical attendant till the last, recognized that the case was hopeless, and notified the family to that effect. It was therefore a case of waiting for the end without a single ray of hope.

IN THE COMMONS.

On the assembling of the House on the 19th, Sir John Thompson insisted that it was the first duty of the House, if true to history and feeling, to notice the loss. The House and country had sustained in the death of the Hon. Member for East York. If the duty had fallen on anyone to do due honor to his worth, his amiable qualities and his seal, he would rather it had fallen on one who knew him in his prime. When Mr. Thompson had the good fortune and honor to enter the House, the late member had ceased to take an active part in it. He would only say that hon. gentlemen who sat with him here witness to the deceased's grand qualities. The Government felt, as the Opposition did, that a great tribute is due to his great qualities, great zeal, great talents and great devotion. He moved that when the House adjourned that day it stand adjourned till yesterday.

BUILDING FOR BRANDON.

Hon. W. Laurier was deeply moved, and in condoning the motion, said twelve months had not elapsed since death had taken another great leader.
They had to deplore the loss of one who was a great opponent of Sir John Macdonald, one as richly, if differently endowed. They knew beforehand that all admired the late Hon. A. Mackenzie. It was Sir John's good luck that he was called while in harness.
Mr. Mackenzie outlived himself. His heart was shattered. He was condemned to silence, and the country was fertilized with the idea of death.

THE FUNERAL.

On Wednesday his body was conveyed from his residence to Jarvis Street Baptist Church. Funeral services were held of the most solemn nature.
The cortège afterward proceeded to the Union Station, and the remains were carried to the deceased statesman.

At the interment took place in the family burial plot on Lakewood cemetery.

THE MILITIA OF CANADA.

General Herbert's Report

The tenor of General Herbert's report on the militia of Canada is not, on the whole, complimentary. He remarks in reference to the rifles with which the militia are armed:—

"The Snider rifle and carbine with which the militia is armed, is at the present an obsolete weapon, but in the condition in which it exists, in most of the regiments of the active militia, it has no claim whatever to be classed as an arm of precision. A large number are of the earliest mark of converted Enfield rifles. Their sights and riflings are completely worn out, and it is no exaggeration to say, in most cases, a smooth bore musket would be a more accurate weapon. For upwards of 20 years they have had the roughest possible usage. A considerable number of Martini-Henry are in store and it would appear desirable that these should be issued to the permanent corps and be gradually introduced throughout the militia. The change must necessarily be gradual since the issue of good arms is useless without adequate provision for their care. Under the system at present prevailing it is idle to expect that rifles issued to the rural militia could be kept in good order. Even in cities, where good public armories and paid Government caretakers exist, the condition of the arms, is in many cases far from satisfactory, since the caretakers are under no control. The only system under which proper care can be insured is that now existing in the militia of the United Kingdom, where the caretakers are part of the permanent paid staff of the militia regiment, and are amenable to military discipline. The commanding officer can then be held responsible for the proper care of his men."

SPRING SHOW.

The first annual spring show of the Moose Jaw Agricultural Society was held on Saturday April 14th. The weather was unusually fine. A large number of farmers and others interested assembled on the public grounds.

This show was exclusively for stallions and bulls. It is pleasing to note the undoubtedly superior class of animals shown.

The following is the list of prize-winners:—

All the above animals were of a superior class, and much credit is due to the owners for showing such fine specimens.

IMMIGRATION PROSPECTS.

President Van Horne, of the Canadian Pacific, expresses himself as highly pleased with the immigration prospects for this season, and says: "We are getting the right people, and we do not hear so much about gentleman farmers now. The people we are getting are bona fide settlers, people with agricultural knowledge."

EMPEROR OF INDIA PASSENGERS.

No. 2 last night bore the Emperor of India Passengers. The train was heavily loaded. The class connections made by the C. P. R. are extremely praiseworthy.

The trip across the Pacific occupied only eleven days. The passenger list was a long one.

FRIDAY, APRIL 22, 1892.

THE LATE HON. ALEXANDER
MCKENZIE.

A true patriot has passed away. For weeks the people of Canada have been expecting the event, and, during the early hours of last Sunday morning, the soul of one of Canada's upright and honest politicians passed into the night.

A man rising from the position of a stone-mason to the pre-eminence of a premier, a man whose political integrity would never allow him to stoop to sordid measures for his own personal aggrandizement, a man who overplaced country before party, the Hon. Alexander McKenzie has done much to purify Canadian politics, and to elevate Canada to the proud position she now holds—the principal dependency of the mother-land.

For many years after entering Parliament the deceased statesman was the esteemed leader of his party, ever kind and considerate, never rabid nor vindictive, ever ready to lend his voice and assistance to that which seemed to him to be for the welfare of his country, never failing to denounce, in his speeches, that which seemed to him to be contrary to her interests.

There was a time when the veteran leader stood out alone, of all his party, and voted, with the Government when the welfare of his country was at stake.

Tokens of universal sorrow have everywhere been shown. They have found expression in the press and public throughout the land, reference has been made to the lamentable event on the Sabbath on which he died.

Our words are not written for the purpose of following the time honored custom of speaking well of the dead, for, of the life of the great man who has "crossed the bar," naught but good can be spoken, and every page of the history of Canada must be made luminous by the name of this illustrious son.

His great intellectual ability and pure character, his uprightness and zeal for the public welfare, his consistency and indomitable perseverance and courage in the advocacy of all measures which approved themselves to his judgment, will be perpetuated when other names have sunk into oblivion, and the lessons of his noble character will ever remain for our guidance and emulation.

He was sincere and devout Christian, who, throughout his whole career, was an upholder of the eternal principles of truth and honor which enabled him, in the evening of his life, to look "our duties well performed, and day well spent."

In closing this eulogy on the career of the late Hon. Alex. McKenzie, we know of no more fitting lines than those of Wordsworth, slightly paraphrased:

"And now the stream
Which overflowed the soul has passed away.
A consciousness remains that it has left Deposited upon the silent shore—
Of memory, images and precious thoughts
That shall not die, and cannot be destroyed."

GREEN GOODS.

A Moose Jaw merchant recently received a type-written letter from a New Yorker, offering to sell him a supply of "green goods." The instructions given are very explicit. No letter or telegram must be sent making enquiries as to the "goods," but a cypher telegram must be sent which signifies the intention of the dupe to go to New York, to have a personal interview with this vendor of counterfeit money.

The modus operandi is now well-known. The sharper meets his victim at some suburban hotel, receives his "fee" shows him a pile of really genuine bills, and proceeds ostensibly to pack them for safe carriage. A hue and cry is raised by some accomplices outside, the victim's attention is thus diverted, and instead of receiving "green goods," when he arrives at home he finds he has exchanged his money for tissue paper, cotton batting or some such trash.

A strange story comes from the parish of St. Martin, Laval county, Quebec. It is said that several of the well-to-do farmers of that locality were foolish and wicked enough to reply to callers from New York to deliver "green goods" to a large amount. Some five or six of the men are represented as having gone to New York with fairly large sums of hard-earned money, and in every case the bearer was taken to an out of the way place and robbed of his cash. It is alleged that no less than $2,000 was in this way squandered by these people, who, it is to be hoped, have received a lesson they will not readily forget. One man in particular, it is said, went so far as to mortgage his little farm, and lost $500 quite as easily as his neighbors.

The darkest hour in a man's life is when he sits down to think out some plan of obtaining money without having first earned it. His business may be going to the winds, his prospect in life may be far from bright, yet there is a nobility about honest and upright business dealings that must in the end triumph. It is best for a man to resolve that, however men may seem to prosper by dishonest measures, (and their name is Legion,) nothing shall disturb the serenity of his voluntary actions, or diminish the reality of an upright life. Truth and honesty forgive no insult and endure no stain.

AGRICULTURE IN 1891.

The report of the Minister of Agriculture for the year 1891 is to hand. Almost every important crop has yielded considerably over the average of other years. In Manitoba and the Territories a very large harvest is reported. In the Territories the greater portion of the crop was saved in good condition, but in Manitoba a considerable portion of the wheat was injured by early autumn frost. This injury, which has lessened the value of the grain, has been more than compensated by the abundant yield.

The total importation of live stock into the Dominion during 1891 was as follows: Cattle, 3473; Sheep 40,167; Swine, 381; Mules, 76; Horses, 3,307. The total export was: horses, 11,868; cattle, 117,765; value $1,572,564; cattle, 117,765; value $7,74,769; sheep 299,587; value $1,150,965.

The action taken by the Minister in the Northwest has been productive of much good. A grant amounting to $9,367.92 was distributed among 29 Agricultural Societies, the condition of distribution being that the allotment was granted only to those whose members numbered fifty.

The work of the Experimental Farms is gone into exhaustively. The distribution of samples of promising varieties of grain has been continued, and, by this method, a manifest increase for good has been produced on the grain crop in the Dominion.

During last year 187,378 immigrants entered Canada as compared with 117,921 in the year 1890.

The report closes with a series of extracts from the reports of various immigration agents throughout the Dominion. The following is of special interest:

"Mr. R. L. Alexander, the agent at Moose Jaw, reports a number of homesteads taken up within a radius of fifteen to twenty miles from his agency, but the total number of immigrants was not as large as in previous years. His report on the yield of crops in his district will be found in printing, and an evidence of the fertility of that section of the country is given in his allusion to the Moose Jaw Agricultural show last October."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Archbishop Ireland of St Paul is to be appointed a Cardinal.

The horrible loss of life through the Mississippi state grows more and more appalling. Over a thousand people are homeless.

The Manitoba public schools were not closed on Easter Monday, the law in Manitoba giving only Good Friday as a holiday.

The C. P. R. Company, with their usual enterprise, are running an excursion train from Halifax to Winnipeg, the fare for the entire trip being only $12.50.

Captain Holmes, with a party of delegates from Michigan, is inspecting the lands of the North West with a view to the settlement of discontented dwellers in that once prosperous state, on the fertile lands of the Territories.

Mr. Adam Brown, postmaster of Hamilton, is to be appointed vice-president of the G. N. W. Telegraph Company to fill the vacancy caused by the elevation of Mr. H. P. Dwight to the presidency.

Now that the shooting season has commenced, parties should exercise discretion. We have been informed that recently a rifle bullet crashed through a window in Mr. Fred Herrler's house. Fortunately there was no person in the room at the time. If such indiscriminate firing is allowed, a boom in cemetery lots will inevitably follow.

It is announced that Prince George of Wales will make a visit to Canada in 1893. After visiting Quebec and Montreal and other places in the Dominion, he will visit Chicago and attend the World's Fair. At present Prince George is with the Prince and Princess of Wales in the south of France.

Before his return to England the Prince may be expected to visit Winnipeg and the North West.

Mr. A. Cavan, one of the delegates to Ottawa of railway mail clerks, has returned. He says that although the order-in-council granting the clerks their demands has not yet been issued, they say the promise of the government to give the increase asked for is genuine, and it may be confidently assumed that the promise of back pay will be fulfilled at an early date.

In the course of an article which appears in the Contemporary Review, General Booth says: "My comparatively brief sojourn in southern climes has convinced me that Australians are in possession of the most magnificent inheritance that has ever fallen to the lot of a young nation. All that is required is to develop the wealth of the country, and it may be confidently assumed that the promise of back pay will be fulfilled at an early date.

GENERAL NOTES.

No Protest Entered.

The Liberals of London, Ont., have allowed the time for entering a protest against Cartier's election to expire without entering action.

For the Northwest.

220 settlers left Toronto, Monday, April 11th, on the Colonist excursion to Manitoba and the North West Territories. C. P. R. agents report that outside of the excursions many new settlers are going through to the North West. They are said to be of a superior class.

Will keep in Touch.

The new United States Mounted Police appointed in Montana will be stationed at places where they can be in telegraphic communication with the Mounted Police of the Northwest Territories.

Dissatisfied with their Organ.

Many of the French Liberals are dissatisfied with the action of La Patrie in boldly advocating political union with the States on the ground that it will tend to injure Laurier and the Liberal party of the Dominion. That paper declares Laurier has nothing whatever to do with its course, and that its action is entirely without his knowledge.

Electrical News.

The important announcement is made that an understanding has been arrived at between the Thompson-Houston Co. (from whom the Moose Jaw plant was purchased) and the Edison General Electric Co. which will result in the amalgamation, at an early date, of the interests of these great concerns. This amalgamation will no doubt be beneficial to all the manufacturing and supply houses, inasmuch as its object seems to be to maintain rather than to cut prices.

Passenger Agent Edgar Dead.

Wm. Edgar, general passenger agent of the Grand Trunk Railway, died Wednesday morning. Deceased recently contracted a severe attack of grippe and, going out too soon after it, caught a severe cold, which, with complications arising therefrom, was the cause of death, which, however, was not anticipated. He had been connected with railway work in Canada for the past thirty-five years, twenty-five of which were in the service of the Great Western, now part of the Grand Trunk, and the remaining ten with the latter company. He succeeded to the position held at his death when Sir Joseph Hickson resigned the presidency of the Grand Trunk.

A Book to Locomotive Engineers.

A Pennsylvania man has invented an ingenious arrangement by which railroad engines can take coal without stopping. The apparatus is constructed above the track in such a way that when the engine comes along, a trap is sprung, emptying the coal in the tender. The Pennsylvania Railroad will test the device on some point along its line between Johnston and Altoona, and if it proves entirely successful, it will probably be adopted by that and other companies. A good deal of time is now lost by trains, especially heavy freights, in stopping to coal up at different stations, and the expense of starting a heavy train after such a stop is no small item.

Farming in Japan.

The land under cultivation in Japan is about 18,000,000 acres, upon the product of which $1,000,000 must be fed. It is unnecessary to say that the farms are small. The acre plot is considered a large farm, so many things are done on the minute scale in Japan. Space utilizing a territory saving have been reduced to a fine art. After surveying the Japanese fields and gardens, it is easy to understand how dwarfing horticulture originated years ago in this country. Land is so valuable that no space is allowed for grass plots, and it is a curious thing that no weeds are to be seen in any of the cultivated plots in Japan. Every inch of ground must be put to the most profitable use, and a seed borne by the current or dropped by a bird stands little show of growing to maturity. So thoroughly have the Japanese got the mastery of these pests that the soil is entirely free from every trace of them. The climate, and the warm, humid atmosphere are particularly favorable to the growth of rats and other parasitic forms, but they have also entirely disappeared from the fields of Japan. A few narrow paths are made in the fields, where absolutely necessary, but there are no roads, and consequently no room for wheeled vehicles or machines. Almost all the work of cultivation is done by hand, and the tools are models of simplicity. The tool used for cutting barley or wheat consists of a sharp blade placed at right angles to the shaft, which is about two feet long. The corn is cut very carefully, so that the adjoining plants are not injured.

Double Scull Race.

Ed. Hanlan, of Toronto has received word that Homer and Teemer have signed the articles for a great double scull race to be rowed at Point of Pines on May 30.

Express Messenger Skiplarking.

The Dominion Express boys' celebrated bear and hat have once more reached Winnipeg, and have been on exhibition in Arnett & Co.'s handsome show window on Main St. Mr. Bruin and his illustrious head gear have just completed their tour of the American continent, visiting all principal cities in the United States and Canada. From there the bear has been sent west to the coast and thence to China and Japan; back to England and the European continent by the Suez Canal, and will reach America again in time for the World's Fair. Attached to Bruin are already over 5,000 autographs, and it is difficult to say what the number will be when the tour of the world is completed.

Bush of Immigrants.

Large numbers of immigrants for the Northwest continue to arrive at Montreal daily. Over four hundred, who came over by the Peruvian, arrived lately. Of these one hundred and ninety-eight are for the North West, and one hundred and eighteen for the Western States. They left for the west on April 13th. On Monday there was another arrival when about five hundred and fifty reached Montreal. Since March 8th last, over five thousand immigrants have passed over the Canadian Pacific line from Halifax.

London to Paris.

A telephone line from London to Paris is in successful operation. Recently an interesting and amusing instance of the efficiency of the telephone occurred. The Salvation Army band was marching from the Royal Exchange playing the "Marseillaise", when when an idea struck the officer present in the telephone room. The windows and doors were thrown open and the attendant at the Paris end was asked if he could hear anything. The response was immediate, "Yes, I can hear a band playing the Marseillaise." That a band of music playing in the streets of London could be plainly distinguished in Paris, is a sufficiently striking marvel of the science of the nineteenth century.

Westward the Course of Empire takes its way.

The sixth of the special excursion trains to Manitoba and the North West left the Union Station Toronto on April 12th. The tide of spring immigration continues to flow. The train was composed of eleven passenger coaches, six of which were colonist sleeping cars. The number of passengers was estimated at about 250, the majority of them coming from the district north of Guelph and Peterborough. Three cars were occupied by passengers from the eastern division of the G. T. R. and the remainder from the Grey & Bruce and Credit Valley sections of the C. P. R. Besides the passenger train, fifteen car loads of emigrants' effects were despatched, comprising stock and implements, household goods, etc.

Gamblers in Court.

An interesting case relative to gambling debts has lately been heard at Whitby, Ont. One Webb, who keeps a licensed hotel at Uxbridge, spent several nights playing poker with one Morgan, alias Herriman, from Owen Sound. In the end Morgan had Webb's note for $250, and this note is sold to one Dohle of Toronto. When the note became due payment was demanded. Webb refused to honor it, claiming that it was given as a gambling debt and was illegal. Dohle proved by Morgan that Webb borrowed the money straight from him and asserted that he owned a farm and his hotel. One Armstrong, who was consulted by Morgan before loaning the money, testified that he saw the transaction, and that it was regular enough. The testimony was conflicting from the gang of gamblers on both sides, but the judge gave judgment for plaintiff for the note and costs.

Emigration of Craftsmen.

Major Clark, of Winnipeg associated with Col. Englefield, R. E., in the commercial aspect of the proposed crafter emigration project under Imperial auspices. The crafter emigration scheme is as follows: The imperial authorities are to loan £150,000 sterling to the Government of British Columbia at 3 per cent. interest, for the purpose of settling on the west coast of Vancouver Island 1,200 crafter families, and by giving to the commercial company projected by Messrs. Englefield and Clark, having a capital of $5,000,000, the land it asks for, to settle the colonists on the sea coast, to furnish them suitable employment to provide the fisherman with facilities for marketing their fish and to establish subsidiary industries. The syndicate proposes to build and equip in the province of British Columbia a fleet of steamers with cold storage compartments for the purpose of the fresh fish away from the fisherman and conveying those fish by a system of cold storage ware-houses to the point where navigation ends and rail transportation begins, and then, bringing their full project into full operation, will convey the fish to the markets of the continent, delivering them to the consumers in practically the same condition as when caught. The subsidy which the proposed company—the Vancouver Island Development syndicate—is to receive from the province, for its share in the undertaking, is 500,000 acres of land.

A Backward Spring.

The backward weather of the past six weeks is somewhat disheartening to the farming community, but it is to be hoped that, when the seed is in, the growth will not be retarded by late frosts. Everything points to an abundant harvest.

Phonograph concert.

A phonograph concert, under the auspices of the church of St. John the Baptist, was given in Russell Hall on Wednesday night. The wonderful little machine was operated by Prof. Foster. Some very fine selections from leading bands were rendered, and also an extensive programme of songs by leading American singers. The audience on this occasion was not as large as Moose Jaw is wont to turn out. It is really lamentable that such an excellent fund of amusement as was produced on Wednesday night, should receive such an indifferent reception.
